How fax machines generate controversy

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

To improve communication throughout the district, Romulus Community School officials have equipped themselves with facsimile machines installed in their respective homes.

With funds from the $45 million bond issue approved by voters last year, the Romulus Board of Education purchased 16 fax machines.

One was installed in each of the seven board members' homes, one in the school administrative office and one in each of the eight schools in Romulus.

"It's a cost efficient means to get information to and from school officials in a timely way," said Terrel M. LeCesne, assistant superintendent for administrative services. "And in most cases, the cost of a fax is less than the cost of a phone call."

And that's not the only savings involved, according to Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell.

"Before, when one of the board members requested information or we had to get important information to them, we had to send a messenger in a bus," Bedell said. "With the fax machine, it's a lot cheaper and easier to get information out."

In addition, he said, it's easier for the elected officials to answer questions from the citizens more accurately.

"If they're not quite sure of the answer to a question, they fax it to the administrative building and we fax them the information right back," Bedell said. "It's the greatest thing since sliced bread."

The machines were purchased at a cost of $650 each for a total of $4,550. Although LeCesne justified the purchase as part of the furniture/equipment account of the $45 million bond issue, a concerned citizen called The Romulus Roman voice her opinion and that of many others, she said.

"I did not vote that bond issue in so that the members of the school board could have a fax machine in their home," the woman said. "I strongly believe the funds are being misappropriated and I believe those who did vote the bond issue in should be informed of where their tax dollars are being spent."

The resident called the State Board of Education in Lansing to see if the funds were being properly allocated.

"They were flabbergasted by my allegations but I believe if more residents voice their opinion, it will be looked into," she said.

Bedell believes that anyone who doesn't think the machines are a good idea doesn't realize the impact of the technology on efficiency.

"Many people think it's a luxury item we gave ourselves, but I believe within 10 years elected officials across the United States will all have these in their homes so that they can be more efficient than ever before," he said.

He wants it to be known that although the machines will remain in the school offices, machines in board members' homes are on loan to them only for as long as they remain on the board.

"Once a board member leaves the board, the fax will be returned to the district," he said. "If those complaining look closely, I'm sure they'll see it's a very cheap and efficient way to communicate."

Public hearing slated

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

A public hearing is scheduled next week to discuss the proposed new I-94 interchange at Vining Road in Romulus.

The proposed intersection is designed to provide full access to and from both directions of the highway and Vining Road. If completed, officials believe the interchange will provide better access to existing and planned economic development centers in and near the project area.

"The interchange will provide access to all the vacant land between Wayne and Merriman roads where a major regional corporate office is proposed to be built," said Dennis Oakes, director of community development for Romulus. "It will also provide better access to the airport."

The corporate offices, which will be named Metro World Centre, are being proposed by developer and owner of the 800 acres of vacant land, Lloyd Ecclestone, who hopes to start construction of a 150,000-office building in the beginning of next year, according to Oakes.

Although Ecclestone will most likely begin construction with or without the intersection, and airport expansion will continue in either case, officials believe an interchange at Vining Road would ease traffic that will be generated by the planned development.

Officials from the Michigan Department of Transportation considered six alternatives to improve traffic flow in that area. Four alternatives were eliminated and the remaining two will be discussed at the public hearing, according to Oakes.

The two alternatives still under consideration consist of a "no-build" alternative and the proposed cloverleaf interchange.

The "no-build" alternative involves no capital investments and, simply put, means the area will be left as is.

The preferred alternative would consist of constructing five ramps for the interchange, relocating Vining Road and including a fourth or weave lane to both directions of I-94.

According to Oakes, the proposed cost of the project is about $15 million.

If the decision is made to begin building the intersection, construction should start in 1993, Oakes said.

Bank robbers sought

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

An armed robbery occurred at the National Bank of Detroit on the corner of Ecorse and Merriman roads in Romulus last week.

At about 2:15 p.m. Nov. 20, two men adorned in gloves and what appeared to be nylon stocking masks, entered the bank and confronted the manager with a dark-colored, semi-automatic weapon, according to Romulus police.

The man holding the weapon ordered the four tellers to give them all the large bills. The accomplice collected the money as the tellers complied, police said.

The pair then fled the bank on foot and were last seen heading west.

The man with the gun was described as a thin male about 5-foot, 10-inches to 6-foot in height. He wore dark gloves and clothing, police said.

The accomplice was also described as a thin male wearing dark clothing. He was said to have been between 5-foot, 8-inches and 5-foot, 10-inches in height. He was not seen with a weapon, according to police.

They said the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over the case and, with the aid of photos from security cameras in the bank, have developed two suspects in the incident.

Neither had yet been arrested at press time.

There were no customers in the bank at the time of the robbery, police said.

Airline delays may be a thing of the past

Mesaba Airlines has had nothing but good fortune since it joined the Northwest team at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in 1988, and their success story seems to just keep unfolding.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony last Friday marked the opening of the Mesaba Airlines Maintenance Hanger and a whole new era of efficiency for the company.

"Having the maintenance facility at Detroit Metro will make us far more reliable than ever before," said Jeff Jones, director of marketing and planning for Mesaba headquarters in Minneapolis.

Although they have had use of a maintenance facility through the years, the company formerly leased the area from other companies at Metro.

"We'll now have our very own area that will hopefully put an end to maintenance delays," Jones said.

Although it appears many have not heard of Mesaba, the company is the second largest carrier in Detroit, according to Jones. It's second only to Northwest with whom it works hand in hand, he said.

"Mesaba Aviation operates as Northwest Airlink under a marketing agreement with Northwest Airlines," said Jones. "We fly to 34 smaller cities throughout the United States where Northwest Airlines wouldn't normally fly."

Flying 19-passenger Fairchild Metro III and 48-passenger Fokker S-27 aircraft, the regional carrier provided connecting service to Northwest at Minneapolis/St. Paul International and Detroit Metro Airport. The airline also serves 39 cities in 13 states and one Canadian province.

"And hopefully, the maintenance facility will do nothing but improve our service," he said.

Benyo named state committee president

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Deputy Editor

Westland resident Joseph F. Benyo has been elected president of the Keep Michigan Beautiful committee (KMB).

The committee is a non-profit organization which annually recognizes programs and activities that substantially contribute to the environmental improvement, cleanup, beautification, site restoration, and historical preservation in Michigan.

The group first organized in 1962 and has helped coordinate statewide programs to stop littering, continue cleanup paint-up fix-up activities, promote outdoor beautification, as well as encourage other groups on local levels to become more active in beautification.

The KMB board of directors is a group of 50 members all of whom are volunteers and live throughout the state. The group solicits members four times a year.

At a KMB awards assembly last month, Michelle Engler, wife of Governor John Engler presented more than 125 awards to individuals and groups in Michigan.

Thanksgiving holiday celebrated in many different ways

Thanksgiving Day celebrations rarely begin with a trip "over the river and through the woods" today, but the holiday still retains many of the traditions and customs of days gone by.

Our American Thanksgiving has its origin in the Plymouth Colony when the Pilgrim, who had migrated to Massachusetts, gave thanks for their first harvest. However, it was the third harvest which is said to have inspired the celebration which we continue today.

When he established the holiday, Governor William Bradford proclaimed, "Inasmuch, as the great Father has given us this year an abundant harvest of Indian corn, wheat, beans, squashes and garden vegetables, and has made the forests to abound with game and the sea with fish and clams, I, your magistrate, do proclaim that all ye Pilgrims, with your wives and little ones, do gather at ye meeting house, on ye hill, between the hours of 9 and 12 on Thursday, Nov. 29, of the year of our Lord 1623, and the third year since ye Pilgrims landed on ye Pilgrim Rock."

In some homes, five grains of corn are placed by the plates of each family member to remind them of the lean days experienced by the Pilgrims prior to their successful harvest.

Thanksgiving Day was established by the state of Massachusetts in 1631, and President Abraham Lincoln made it a national celebration during his term in office. President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day in 1939.

Before the official proclamations, many ethnic groups celebrated Harvest Home to mark the end of the fall crop gathering with feasts and prayers of thanksgiving.

The practice of celebrating harvests, in fact, was observed by the Chinese thousands of years ago, and both the Greeks and Romans set aside special days of feasting to honor their agricultural deities. Native Americans celebrated their corn harvest with a dancing, feasting and thanks to the "Great Father." Thanksgiving may also have its roots in the Jewish Feast of the Tabernacles.

Tradition plays a major role in Thanksgiving Day celebrations, perhaps, more so than in most American holidays. For most families, the holiday marks a gathering of the family and close friends for a turkey dinner and trimmings - dressing, mashed potatoes, candied yams, cranberry sauce, an array of salads and vegetables plus a hot, spicy pumpkin. Because of the varied ethnic heritage of Americans, the holiday traditions are often mixed with special foods from the countries of their origin.

During the past years, new "traditions" have crept into the celebration of Thanksgiving Day. Early in the morning, youngsters and adults tune their televisions to the holiday parades originating from downtown Detroit, Philadelphia, New York and, sometimes, Hawaii. Those who want to experience the first-hand thrill of the holiday parade, bundle up their youngsters and seek out a spot on the Woodward Avenue parade route to see the official arrival of Santa Claus. For the first time, parade-viewers can reserve a bleacher seat to watch the holiday parade.

After the bountiful meal has been consumed, another modern tradition takes over as sports fans tune in the football games. Thanksgiving Day also marks the beginning of the pre-Christmas season, a time when stores throughout the area prepare to launch their day-after- Thanksgiving shopping sales.

Now, the countdown begins. It is only 28 days until Christmas.

Ethnic foods, customs continue

Czechoslovakian-Americans celebrate Harvest home with a thanksgiving supper on the feast of St. Wencel, their national patron saint. The patron saint now is most well known in the U.S. as the Good King Wencel in the popular Christmas carol.

Hungarian-Americans observe a day of celebration for the grape harvest which features parades, music and a feast of roast calf, pig or lamb served with the new wine. The old country customs traveled with Hungarian families to the New World and settlements in the Detroit area.

Kathy Van Assche and Jacob check dinner

11 gather around family table

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

For many, Thanksgiving means preparing a meal for the family and a crew of relatives. For the Van Assche family, however, the immediate family members create the bustle of Thanksgiving as part of the daily routine.

With 11 family members, every meal is similar to a holiday and every grocery shopping trip similar to those an average family takes only when expecting guests for the holidays.

"I have one big grocery shopping trip every week which adds up to about $150 to $200," Kathy Van Assche commented. "We have to go to the store to pick up odds and ends every day such as milk. We drink about two gallons a day."

And for Thanksgiving, well, she is expecting her father and brother and a very good friend of the family, Esther Nadolski, so she'll get a 32-pound turkey instead of the usual which is a few pounds lighter.

"Then the oldest of my sons will take the smaller children to the city parade while the rest of us stay home and prepare the Thanksgiving meal," Kathy said.

Kathy and Jim Van Assche have lived in Romulus for 12 years. Their children, who range in age from 2 to 23 years, include four sons, Jim, 23; John 20; Joseph, 8 and Jacob 2; and five daughters Betty, 22; Karen, 16; Mary 14; Theresa, 12 and Sarah, 10.

Jim Van Assche is the owner of Van Assche Brothers Construction Co. Both Jim and John work side by side with their father and oldest daughter Betty works at St. Marys Hospital while the others help around the home.

"And I have to say there's never a dull moment, especially around the holidays," Kathy said.

"I guess we're lucky compared to other families because I have some friends who only have a few people in their family and it must be pretty boring," said 16-year-old Karen.

And her mother certainly agreed. Her goal for her family is that "...each child is happy, finds the right person and has a lot of children," Kathy said.

In the meantime, she's glad they're all together for this Thanksgiving and hopes they are for many more to come.

And once this one's is over, the bustle will continue for her and her family as they begin to get ready for the more than 100 relatives that get together at her home for Christmas.

"Sure, it's hectic, but I'm used to it," she said. "I'm just thankful we're all happy, healthy and together for the holidays."

Lodge opens doors to senior guests

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Guess who's coming to Thanksgiving dinner?

Busloads and carloads of senior citizens are flocking to the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 934 to consume a free Thanksgiving dinner and all the trimmings.

In past years, 200 or more seniors dined at the Moose Lodge and this year the number served reached close to the 300 mark with more than 70 lodge members working to prepare and serve the feast, according to Jim McCoy, lodge administrator.

"I don't know how many of those we serve are needy people, but certainly there are some that might not have a real Thanksgiving meal if it were not for our dinner," McCoy said. "Helping our community is a function of our lodge, and our members have done this for many years."

More than 100 man hours go into the food preparation with cooks baking, deboning and slicing the 33 20-pound turkeys and cooking the accompaniments to the meal. On the day of dinner, volunteers set the table, serve the food to the guests and clean up the dining hall and kitchen.

Although the project is sponsored by the Moose Lodge, some community involvement contributes to its success. For example, fifth-graders from Edgemont Elementary School made centerpieces for the Thanksgiving tables as their contribution to the senior event.

To enable lodge members to spend the Nov. 28 holiday with their own families, the special Thanksgiving dinner for seniors was staged last Sunday.

"I've been working on it for 10 or 12 years," said Thanksgiving project co-chairman Don Moore. "We started it as a function for our aged members and then it was extended to the convalescent home residents. Later, the seniors from the area were invited."

Moore noted that 276 guests, including 32 from the Belle Woods Center, attended the annual Thanksgiving meal last year.

"Every year, we get a card of appreciation from September Days Senior Center, expressing their thanks. It really makes us feel good to know that the seniors appreciate what we are doing," Moore said.

"This year, as we see more need in the community, we'd like to expand our service, but we just aren't equipped to handle more than the Belleville area," Moore said. "It makes me feel especially good to see the people from the convalescent center enjoy their meal

In fact, many of the women who serve the meals ask to be scheduled during the time the convalescent home people are here."

Co-chairman Doug Traskos, who has been involved in the project for five years, shares Moore's feelings about serving the shut-ins.

"They need help getting off their buses and some of them need help in eating, and it gives us real pleasure to do something for them," Traskos said.

"There's lot of work involved, but it is worthwhile. When it is all over we all look back and laugh together and exchange comments and thank-yous that we've received," Traskos said. "I think that one of these days, I'll be old and I hope I can sit down to one of these meals and there will be someone who'll care enough to feed me."

Tae Keuk Village residents toast holiday

Holiday has oriental flavor

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

On Nov. 28 residents of Tae Keuk Village in Wayne will be roasting their turkeys and mashing potatoes just like every American family in the United States.

This Thanksgiving will be the second celebration for the residents because on Sept. 22, they celebrated their Korean Thanksgiving, according to Sunpuk Choi, manager of Tae Keuk Village.

"It really depends on what day the Korean Thanksgiving will fall," Choi said. "The Korean Thanksgiving is a day to remember our ancestors."

The meals consist of rice cakes, newly harvested grains, rice and wine. Where some cultures buy turkeys or pigs as the main meal, the Korean culture celebrates with beef.

Resident Bo Wha Kim explained how the food is displayed on the table. Besides choosing the correct kinds of food for the celebration, organizing the food is of utmost importance.

"You put out as much fruit as possible on the table," Kim said. "The fruit is placed on the east side of the table. You should have bright colored fruit such as an apple or yellow pear."

Once the beef is prepared, the family then places the meal on the west side of the table.

Seafood is placed above the fruits, and vegetables are situated on the top left portion of the table," Kim said. "In the middle section from top to bottom we place the wine, soy sauce under the wine, soup under the soy sauce and fruit on the bottom of the table."

To the right of the table from top to bottom is the cheese, meat underneath and then fruit again on the bottom.

"This is a very traditional way to set the table," Kim said.

East Indian Thanksgiving features vegetarian treats for families

By KEVIN LITWIN
ANP Staff Writer

Jawaharial Bhalla of Canton is celebrating his eighth Thanksgiving in the United States. But Bhalla doesn't celebrate the holiday the traditional American way.

"I came to this country from Madras, India in 1984, and I love everything about the holiday season," Bhalla said. "But I am a strict vegetarian, so I don't indulge in turkey or goose dinners on Thanksgiving. My family and I celebrate with unusual vegetable dishes. But I do watch the parades and football on TV."

Bhalla said that his family's Thanksgiving dinner this year will include a traditional puffed bread called puri, a pastry filled with peas, potatoes, raisins, herbs and spices, and the main entree - vegetables-in-the-round.

"The vegetables-in-the-round is actually called sabji kofta," Bhalla said. "It is a very delicious dish that I'm sure all Americans would enjoy if they ever tried it."

The dish is simple to prepare. The recipe calls for 1 1/2 pounds of mixed, diced vegetables of one's choice, cleaned and peeled as needed.

"You can use mushrooms, green peppers, broccoli, squash, or any other vegetable that you are particularly fond of," Bhalla said.

Dice the vegetables and steam cook on medium heat, adding four cloves of garlic, 1/4 ounce of fresh-grated ginger root, and 3/4 teaspoon of salt. When tender, mash the mixture.

Add 1/4 teaspoon of garam masala (a commercial spice mixture) and two ounces of dry bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly and divide the mixture into 10 to 12 equal parts, shaping into balls 1 1/2 to 2 inches in diameter.

In a skillet, fry the vegetable balls in low-cholesterol vegetable oil until golden brown. Serve hot with gravy. Makes four to six servings.

To prepare the gravy, heat four ounces of butter, add four ounces of chopped onions and four ounces of grated onions, and fry until golden.

Remove from heat, and add 1/2 teaspoon of red, cayenne pepper and stir until the color of the pepper is blended into the butter. Add 1/2 ounce of ginger, eight cloves of garlic, one rounded teaspoon of ground coriander, 1 1/2 teaspoons of salt, 1/2 teaspoon of garam masala, and eight ounces of sliced tomatoes.

Cook until the garam mas-ala is fried, and dispose of the clarified butter that separates from it.

Add two green chili peppers (optional) and one cup of water. Simmer until the raw flavor of garlic disappears, and the sauce thickens.

Serve hot over the vegetables-in-the-round, and sprinkle with fresh coriander leaves.

"If you like food with a bit of spirit to it, you'll like sabji kofta," Bhalla said. "It'll clear your sinuses."

past 20 and one-half years of service and felt he would be a great asset in his new position. "He is a very committed and conscientious person," Banks said. Other echoed those sentiments.

Later that night, Councilman Randolph Gear, formerly mayor pro tem, was elected to serve as the councilman pro tem for the city. This honor means he will again head the council if for some reason Banks is unable to attend a meeting.

Gear is now in his third year as a councilmember and considers himself an active member of the community. He is a 1969 graduate of Romulus High School and a graduate of the University of Michigan, and currently teaches art.

Gear is also a sergeant in the United States Army reserves.

"I love this city and I care very much about what goes on within, and how residents and workers are affected," Gear said. "A lot of positive things have taken place here in the past couple years and there's a lot more to come."

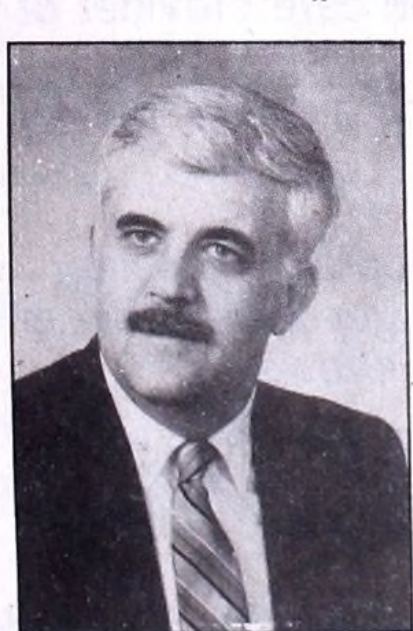

Gear looks forward to keeping Romulus a growing and thriving community, he said.

Third vote-getter on the new team was Jimmie Raspberry who has been a councilmember since 1970.

Raspberry previously served as a trustee for Romulus Township. Facing a campaign loss in 1973, he resumed office from 1975 to 1985, and again in 1987, after recovering from the death of his wife.

Raspberry is a graduate of Industrial High School and is a retired from Ford Motor Company.

"I would like to thank the citizens for giving me support over the many years," Raspberry said. "I will continue to be fair and responsible and use my best judgment in exercising my duty as a councilman."

ing my duty as a councilman."

He also plans to encourage residents that now live in the city to stay, and to welcome the new by keeping Romulus a safe and promising place to live.

Noah P. Bergeron was also re-elected and is now serving in his seventh term of office. He is looking forward to finishing the plans the council has begun during the past year.

Bergeron considers himself William Wadsworth Junior now sits on the council for the eighth year in a row.

He is currently an officer with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and it is his goal to continue to serve the needs of the citizens through his seat on the council.

Wadsworth has lived in Romulus more than 20 years. He has an associates degree in criminal justice from Henry Ford Community College and a Bachelors degree in criminal a "no-nonsense" kind of guy and said: "If I believe in something, I'll fight for it. If I hear about a problem I'll look into it."

He is a lifelong resident of Romulus and a 1969 graduate of Romulus Junior High School.

He now pledges to continue to think of the needs of residents when deliberating on the future of Romulus.

"I don't play political games," he said. "I'm here to get the job done."

justice from Madonna College.

Wadsworth is a former member of the United States Army.

He said he is committed to serving "residents first," and plans to continue to keep the best interest of the voters in mind.

"There is still a lot undone in Romulus," he said. "I want to stand up against Metro airport who I think is taking too much land from us too quick."

Next in line is Ellis Pennington who served on the very first city council from 1970 to 1973, and returned to the council in 1985.

Pennington has lived in Romulus about 40 years and is a graduate of Wheel Wright High

Ellis Pennington

School in Kentucky. He is retired from Kelsey-Hayes and formerly served as road commissioner for Romulus. He also served as township trustee from 1978 until 1980 and was on the city planning commission in 1983.

He will now continue his saga with a pledge to continue to speak up and make a difference.

"I will continue representation as I have in previous years," he said. "I will continue to answer citizen complaints to the best of my ability."

Last, but certainly not least, Russell Lambert is now serving his second year on council.

A 40-year resident of Romulus, he plans to continue extending his efforts to work for the citizens and to do all he can to help those who call on him.

"My motto is and always has been: I am willing to work for the people," he said. "Look in the phone book for councilmembers names and you'll see mine has always been there because I'm here for the people anytime they need me."

It also seemed to come to no surprise to the residents of Romulus to see Mayor Beverly McAnally run unopposed this year or to see her retain the leadership post she has held for eight years.

McAnally was born in Kansas City, Miss., and attended Park College, University of Kansas City and the Kansas City Art Institute.

She began her career in public service as a community volunteer.

City Clerk Linda Choate and Treasurer James Napiorkowski also ran unopposed. The clerk re-captured her seat with a total of 1,753 votes while Napiorkowski won again with 1,635.

Choate has lived in Romulus for nearly 20 years. She is a 1958 graduate of Taylor Center High and a past employee of Chemcentral in Detroit.

Choate has acted as city clerk since 1983. She is also currently a member of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce; the International Institute of Municipal Clerks and the Fifteenth District Democrats.

She is also past secretary and treasurer and current president of the Association of Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerks.

She said she became a candidate for the office of city clerk several years ago because she believed she had something to offer the community and believes the same today.

When asked goals for the future, Choate replied: "...to continue personal improvement and improvement within the city."

She said that to better serve the citizens during upcoming elections, she hopes to soon get in new voting machines.

"We have to get rid of those big, heavy and ancient 'dinosaurs' that we now possess and to get in electronic voting equipment so that voting can be faster and easier in the future," she said.

She hopes to be able to budget for this approximate $200,000 project through the vote of the people in the 92-93 fiscal year.

"We're here to serve the citizens of the community in the best, most efficient way we know how," she said.

TO PREVENT PREMATURE BIRTH,
SEE YOUR DOCTOR FOR EARLY PRENATAL CARE

By Bohdan Z. Danysh, M.D.

Premature birth is the leading cause of infant death in the United States. Although premature birth cannot always be anticipated or prevented, early prenatal care often is the key to a healthy live birth. Normal gestation time for a human infant is 40 weeks. A baby who is born before 37 weeks runs a risk of having underdeveloped lungs and other organs, making it difficult to withstand life outside the womb.

Common causes of premature birth

- Following are some common conditions that can contribute to the possibility of premature birth:
- Maternal history of premature births or miscarriages
 - A multiple-birth pregnancy
 - Structural or physical problems, such as a misshapen uterus or fibroid tumors
 - Chronic maternal disease, such as diabetes or kidney disease
 - Acute maternal disease, such as untreated infection or a problem that requires surgery during pregnancy

Early prenatal care is key. If detected early enough through ultrasound and other tests, premature labor can be delayed until the baby is more fully developed. By performing simple exams, physicians can diagnose and treat certain ailments that may lead to premature labor, and doctors will educate mothers on how to recognize symptoms of premature labor. Some mothers can be fitted with a monitoring device to track uterine contractions.

Treatment measures

Treatment for premature labor is most likely to succeed if begun very early in the first stages of labor. Most therapy combines medication and rest, beginning in the hospital and continuing at home. Some women may need to spend several weeks in a hospital. Not all premature labors can be stopped. Also, sometimes the condition of the mother or infant makes it more desirable to allow the labor to continue.

If premature birth occurs, the baby's chances for survival and long-term health increase greatly with care in a modern neonatal intensive care unit. For this reason, any mother who is at risk for premature labor should talk to her doctor about delivering in a hospital that has a Level III NICU facility — such as Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

The newly renovated State Wayne Theatre

City celebrates theatre opening

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

City officials in Wayne are still tallying the proceeds from the grand opening of the State Wayne Theatre Nov. 1, however, residents as well as business owners and councilmembers are praising the efforts of the city administration for a job well done.

About 300 Wayne residents and business owners pulled up to the State Wayne Theatre doors for the grand opening, according to Assistant City Manager John Zech.

"A great deal of support was shown from the community," Zech said. "We don't have an official count just yet as to how much was gathered from selling tickets to the event, but we did have about 300 people in attendance."

Guests were welcomed with hors d'oeuvres, beverages and music as they sauntered into the lobby of the theatre dressed in their best.

Opening night movies included Fiddler On The Roof and The Wizard of Oz. Former mayor Patrick Norton, former councilman Tom Weyand and City Manager Tom Daily had the honor of starting the first film.

The renovation of the theatre began last summer. Wayne councilmembers approved the purchase of the State Wayne for $316,970. The purchase was funded through the Downtown Development Authority funds.

Monroe St. Mary's bursts Robichaud state title bubble, 21-0

By KEVIN LITWIN
ANP Staff Writer

Revenge is sweet, and the Monroe St. Mary Catholic Central football team savored the feeling last Saturday after dominating Dearborn Heights Robichaud, 21-0, in a Class B semi-final game at Hillsdale College.

The Falcons' victory avenged a 27-0 semi-final loss to Robichaud in the 1990 Class B semifinals.

"I had no trouble at all getting our team ready to play Robichaud today," said St. Mary coach Joe Sandersen. "But our job isn't over yet."

The Falcons (12-0) will play Coopersville (12-0) at 8 p.m. Friday for the 1991 Class B championship. Robichaud, the defending Class B champs, finished the season with a 10-2 record.

"You've got to give credit to St. Mary's," said Robichaud coach Bob Yauck. "They just beat us right in the gut. They beat us where we thought they'd come, but we didn't stop them."

St. Mary's used a basic, ball-control, off-tackle running game to consistently attack the Robichaud defense throughout the contest. The Falcons compiled 177 yards in total offense for the game, all of it on the ground.

But Yauck also credited St. Mary's explosive, battering ram defense, which allowed Robichaud a meager 33 total yards of offense for the entire game - 22 rushing and 11 passing.

"Their defense played superb," Yauck said. "We knew they'd be ready. They came out right from the opening kickoff and went after us."

Early in the contest, Robichaud got an inkling of bad things to come when their standout 368-pound offensive tackle, Alex White, was helped off the field with a knee injury that would keep him out of the remainder of the game.

Immediately thereafter, with 8:12 remaining in the first quarter and Robichaud punting from its own 33, a miscue by punter Gary Phillips forced the Bulldogs to turn the ball over at their own 21, and St. Mary's was in business.

"Gary only dropped back 10 yards to punt for some reason, instead of his usual 13," Yauck said. "He just wasn't deep enough when he got the ball, so he hesitated and then tried to run. He probably could have gotten the kick off, but that's neither here nor there now."

Seven plays later senior fullback Brian Bellino rambled eight yards for a touchdown, and Joel Brose added to the extra point, giving St. Mary's a 7-0 lead with 5:12 remaining in the opening stanza.

The Falcons stopped Robichaud on the next drive, then regained possession at their own 49. St. Mary's pile driving offense stormed down the field with straight-ahead running plays, and with 1:33 left in the quarter, Bellino took a handoff from quarterback Nick Calkins and bulldozed 28 yards for his second touchdown of the contest. Brose added the point after, and St. Mary's led, 14-0.

Robichaud was stopped for no yards on its next drive, and as the first quarter came to a close, the Bulldogs were faced with a punting situation, trailing 14-0.

The teams switched ends, but things immediately continued to deteriorate for Robichaud as Phillips' punt was blocked by Falcon linebacker Cory Gildersleeve, and was recovered by Bellino at the Bulldog 8.

The first play from scrimmage resulted in St. Mary's third touchdown as tailback Carey Miller took a handoff from Calkins and bowled into the end zone. Brose added the

With the line giving him protection, Robichaud quarterback Tom Massey (7) is looking to hand off the ball to one of his running backs (below). Massey didn't have his favorite ball carrier, Gary Phillips, in the backfield in the second half against Monroe St. Mary's. Phillips was sidelined early in the second quarter with a season-ending injury. In the photo above, Michael Orsette (white jersey) is being chased down by a host of St. Mary's defenders, who manage to stop the speedy Robichaud back. St. Mary's also stopped the defending Class B state champs, ousting them Saturday in the state semifinals, 21-0, at Hillsdale College. The St. Mary's victory avenged a 27-0 rout the state champs inflicted on them a year ago.

P.C. Outlet continues to lead Wayne-Westland

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Despite an 8-8 tie with underdogged Daly Drive In, P.C. Outlet continued to lead the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey League this week.

P.C. remains atop of the league with an impressive 7-2-2 record.

In the shootout with Daly's, the league-leader staged a late comeback to escape the loss column. Daly's jumped out to an early 3-0 lead, however, P.C. Outlet came right back and overtook their rivals. The lead seasawed with the offense on both sides taking command.

Ed Schechter scored the hat trick for P.C. Outlet, while teammates Steve Goldener, Mark Giordano, Mike Taylor, Dan Duszakiewicz and John Clearwood each checking in with one goal. Conrad Madaleno, Sam Stavreski and Walt Fischhoff each had two assists for the leaders.

On the other side of the ledger, Mike Dickie also turned in with three goals and an equal number of assists. Ron Mackenzie notched a pair of goals and assists, while Mitch Ramsey and Chris Kuczkowski and Rich Ergonis carded a goal apiece. Daly's record stands at 2-7-2 as the week ends.

In the meantime, Wild Bill's Fun Center and Sportswear Design played Oldtime Hockey. Each team showed solid defense and forechecking, and when the rugged duel was over, Wild Bill's garnered a crucial 1-0 victory that kept in the midst of the title chase.

Goalies Gary Green for Sportswear and Wild Bill's Tom Niven were outstanding in the nets. The game was eventually decided when a pass from Carl Pawlowski was converted by Ken Langlois with less than five minutes remaining in the game.

The victory upped Wild Bill's record to 7-3-1 on the season, while Sportswear is 3-7-1.

Rogalas Bar & Grill secured its second victory of the current campaign by defeating Independent Carpet, 4-3. Dave Millam, Doug Morrison, Dennis LaPensee and Dan Kubany scored for the winners. Ken Beal, Dave Cherry, Jim Drewry, Morrison and LaPensee also carded assists. LaPensee also eared the Penalty Bonus.

For the losers, Mark Santoni, Bob Bowen and Dave Zajak scored for Independent. Bowen had two assists while teammate Jim Fisher had one. Independent is now 1-7 on the year while Rogalas has a 2-8-1 mark.

Millar-Weinberg drew first blood with the first goal, but could do little else as undefeated Harlow Tire roared back with 10 unanswered goals to subdue their rivals 11-2.

Jim Creekmore and Jerry Robertson each had four goals. Creekmore added four assists to his outstanding effort. Dave Fiswick netted two goals and added five assists. Mike Villemure added one goal and two assists while Ron Wojewski and Jim Ogozaly each scored goals for the Millar-Weinberg crew whose record dipped to 3-8.

The Top of the Lamp got on the scoreboard early with a pair of goals but couldn't hold off a hard-skating Paddy's Pub which went on to register a 6-3 victory.

Ken Sovi had two goals for The Lamp and teammate Ray Matthews picked up a goal and a pair of assists. John Ballarin, Dave Lehman and Gary Riegel earned assists. John Porter and Jerry Mosses tallied twice for Paddy's, while Harry Kuk and Chuck Pankow had single scores. Porter, Moses, Tom Jones, Pankow, Dan Ward, and Jim McDonald all had assists. Top of the Lamp and Paddy's have identical 5-4-2 records.

Wayne Heating exploded for three goals in the final period to break a 1-1 tie with D.L. Lounge and secure a 4-1 victory. Tim McNamara tallied twice, with Jeff Addley and Dave Hun each adding a goal and an assist for Wayne.

Mike Greer and Sam Foddrill also had assists. The win leaves Wayne Heating with a 7-3-1 record. Tim Dettloff scored the lone goal for the loungemen. Bob Johnson and Kevin Barbour had assists.

Howell Toll & Gage turned back Jake's, 7-3, as Al Pulk registered a hat trick. Dave Frankling had two goals, with Gary Swain and Errol Pulk added one goal each. Swain also had three assists. Gary Von Moss, John Auer, Chuck Quint, Larry Holt and Dennis The Duck Broge also had assists. Tom DiLaura, Jim Mullen, Al Farina, Phil Cerne, John Col-

'Golden Anniversary' is a great success

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Congratulatory letters and letters of appreciation continue to pour in from members of the Belleville High Class B state championship football team of 1941 which recently met on the old Tiger gridiron.

The letters stress their appreciation to James Richendollar, superintendent of Van Buren Schools, Larry Tabor, Belleville High School principal, Michael Colletta, athletic director, and to Associated Newspapers staff writers Joan Dyer-Zinner and Tom Mooradian for helping to organize and sponsor the reunion.

From John Dackawich, a member of the 1941 team, who is presently a professor at California State University, school of social sciences, comes this note:

"Because I was one of those who requested a 50th year reunion for the BHS championship football team, I want to express my gratitude for what, by all accounts and despite poor weather, was an outstanding success. Unfortunately for me, two days before my scheduled departure for the big event, I suffered a painful fracture of my foot and a torn ankle, and was therefore unable to attend. My wife thinks that it was the biggest disap-

Schedules, please

While high school coaches and teams are busy preparing for their 1991-92 winter sports season openers, The Associated Newspapers sports staff is clearing its desk of fall notes and getting ready to cover the men's basketball, swimming and wrestling teams.

And look for ANP staffers at the women's volleyball and gymnastics events during the next three months.

However, in order to assign the writers and photographers to the games, we're going to need the winter sports schedules.

Schedules should be mailed —or dropped off— at The Associated Newspapers, Sports Desk, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Central attraction

Tyrone Hicks (at left, with pen), who led Belleville High to an undisputed Wolverine 'A' Conference basketball championship a year ago, ended speculation about where he wants to continue his cage and scholastic careers. He signed a national letter of intent to attend Central Michigan University next fall. Attending the ceremony are Belleville head coach Michael Garland (standing) and Belleville High principal Larry Tabor. The 6-7 senior will be one of the keys to a successive Tiger title this season. point after, and St. Mary's led 21-0 just 16 seconds into the second quarter.

For all intents and purposes, the game was over at that point.

Robichaud took the subsequent kickoff, and the first play of the drive resulted in the proverbial nail being pounded in the Robichaud coffin. Offensive workhorse Gary Phillips ran a sweep play and was pulverized by a gang of Falcons. Phillips laid in agony on the field for 10 minutes, and was carried off on a stretcher. Phillips was taken to the hospital, but Coach Yauck said after the game that Phillips was okay.

The teams traded possessions the rest of the quarter, and the score was 21-0 at half-time.

"With Gary out of the game, we just had to improvise our running game," Yauck said. "We couldn't really run wide anymore, and St. Mary's stopped everything that we tried off tackle."

Robichaud had -1 yard rushing in the first half, and was 2 of 3 passing for 11 yards. St. Mary's had 87 yards rushing.

The teams played evenly in the second half as a driving rain and stiff wind descended upon Hillsdale Stadium. The Robichaud defense played well, but their offense couldn't muster a threat until 5:50 remaining in the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs took over on the St. Mary's 24 after a fumble.

Running back Steve Gill ran two yards to the 22, then tailback Eddie Lawrence ripped off a 15-yard run to the 7 for a first-and-goal. But the Robichaud offense sputtered at that point.

Gill ran one yard to the 6, and quarterback Thomas Massey scrambled for no gain, bringing up third-and-goal from the 6. Slotback Michael Orsette ran four yards to the 2, but on fourth down, Massey was sacked at the 8, and St. Mary's had the shutout and a trip to the finals.

"They have a good team, and I hope they win the championship," said Robichaud senior defensive end Reiven Holt, who made some crunching tackles during the game. "We had a good year. Nobody expected us to come as far as we did. We just have to keep our heads up."

Senior cornerback Steve Gill, who had a stellar season, echoed Holt's sentiments.

"St. Mary's has a great team, and they really wanted to win," said Gill. "I could see it in the pre-game warmup. They were all fired-up. But we had a good season, too. Nobody expected us to go this far."

Coach Yauck was asked to reflect on the team performance this year, especially after winning the Class B championship in 1990.

"I'm very pleased with the way my guys played this year," Yauck said. "Everybody expected us to win three or four games, but we got to the semi-finals of the tournament. This team carried on a proud tradition of Robichaud football."

pointment of my life.

Nonetheless, I have enjoyed it all vicariously through the many reports, pictures, news stories and other memorabilia that my teammates have sent. For all of that, again, I thank you and the others who were instrumental in recreating our "field of dreams."

By the way, there are a couple of corrections to the last story about the Team of 1941. The correct spelling of the members of the team are: Edward Szymanski, Alvin Baker, Sedley Mills and Harold Sherman. Also, it was Leonard Rochon, also a member of the 1941 team, whose grandson, Michael, a guard, recovered a key fumble in the victory over Trenton. Michael's father, David Rochon, was also an outstanding athlete at Belleville High where he starred as a wrestler.

Western Lakes Salem, Canton dominate all-conference team

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem, undefeated in their respective divisions in the Western Lakes, dominated the all-conference basketball selections. The teams were picked by the coaches of the conference.

The Western Lakes all-conference lineup included Stephanie Gray, a junior from Canton, and Darcie Miller, a senior from Salem. Also drafted for the mythical team were: Bridgette Norris (junior, Walled Lake Central); Karen Pump (senior, Northville); Teresa Sarno (senior, Livonia Stevenson) and Dawn Warner (senior, Livonia Franklin).

Westland John Glenn placed one player on the All-Lakes Team. She's senior Car-

The All-Lakes club also includes: Jenny Czach (junior, Walled Lake Central); Mo Drabicki (sophomore, Livonia Stevenson); Emily Giuliani (senior, Plymouth Salem); Cyndi Platter (junior, Plymouth Salem); and Karen Seremet (senior, North Farmington).

Three seniors broke into the lineup for the All-Western team. The lineup is made up of: Britta Anderson (sophomore, Plymouth Canton); Laura Apligian (senior, Northville); Chrissy Daly (junior, Livonia Churchill); Dawn Godfrey (senior Walled Lake Western); and Patty Shea (senior, Livonia Franklin).

The Rockets of John Glenn also had two notable players in Cathy Mruk and Kristi Zimmer. The two seniors were given honorable mention consideration. Three Livonia Franklin players - Karen Potempa, Wendy Rynkiewicz and Myryak Shea- also made the honorable mention list as did Leslie Gotts and Christy Parimucha - both juniors - from Plymouth Salem. Canton junior Christie Saffron also was given honorable mention recognition.

Belleville kicker cards 4th goal

Two former outstanding athletes are making new on the college athletic scene.

Adrienne Clark, a 5-9 senior who scored at a 5.5 points per game average a year ago, is being considered for a starting role at Drake University.

In an exhibition game against the Belgium National Team, Clark pumped in 15 points to lead the Bulldogs to a 76-62 victory.

Drake is coached by Lisa Bluder, who in her rookie season a year ago led the Bulldogs to a 13-17 record.

In the meantime, ex-Belleville star, Karen Fujii, drilled in her fourth goal of the season as the Michigan State Spartans blanked Louisville, 3-0, in a non-conference soccer game.

Fujii, who has one assist to go along with her four goals, is the Spartans' third leading scorer with nine points on the season.

The victory extended the Spartans' winning streak to five games.

Ex-Wayne Cager at Northwood

Former Wayne Memorial cage ace, Maya Lewis, is one of 11 returning letterwinners on the 1991-1992 Northwood Institute women's basketball team.

Lewis, a 5-8 forward, is a sophomore who played in 19 of the Northwood's 32 games last season.

With six seniors returning to the club, Lewis is expected to be a backup at the small forward spot this year.

The Northwomen, under sixth-year head coach Mary

Maya Lewis

Vielbig, are the defending NAIA District 23 champions and have had back-to-back 20 win seasons.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. The "slows", or periodic clogs, are signals that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe from sink to sewer, or septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. It clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. No other product has the Plumb Clean formula. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, Plumb Clean is money-back guaranteed! Don't be confused. Plumb Clean is the brand with the guarantee right on the label.

Save Money. A 1 lb. jar of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. It costs only about 35¢ per treatment.

Independent laboratory studies show Plumb Clean more effectively breaks down organic waste than all other products tested. So, if your drains have the "slows", get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

WINCHESTER

The winner

Students at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School in Wayne were impressed last week when John Irwin, 13, appeared for class each day in a chauffeur-driven limousine...and just as impressed when driver Dan Kalinowsky from Dan's Limousines appeared again each day to take him to his home in Inkster. John was the winner of The Associated Newspapers circulation contest and had the largest number of new paying customers on his Inkster route during the three-month contest period. John is the son of Nellis Orris of Inkster and John Irwin of Southfield. Did he enjoy the impressive service? "It was pretty nice," the winner assured all. Tie one on Mothers seek volunteers

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Volunteers are being sought to distribute red ribbons for the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers "Tie One on for Safety" campaign.

Last year, 96 people in Wayne County were killed in alcohol-related crashes, Nomura said.

For more information on the red ribbon program, contact MADD at 422- MADD.

As a part of the traditional holiday public awareness campaign, MADD volunteers will coordinate their efforts in supermarkets nationwide to distribute the red ribbons and information about drunk driving.

"While the goal nationally is to reach 65 percent of American households with information about drunk driving before the high risk holiday season, our goal in Wayne County is to reach 100 percent," said Diane Nomura, Wayne County MADD president. "However, we need the support of concerned citizens here to make this happen."

Test for freshness when choosing a tree

Choosing a Christmas tree can be an enjoyable experience for the family, according to Essie Boughan, who with her husband, Ken, is the owner of Boughan's Tree Farm on Hull Road in Belleville.

Since 1951, area families have started their holiday season with a visit to Boughan's Tree Farm to select a Scotch pine, Austrian pine, red pine or spruce tree for the holidays.

A few simple guidelines can make selection of a fresh, natural Christmas tree more fun and the best value for your money.

- Essie Boughan

"A few simple guidelines can make selection of a fresh, natural Christmas tree more fun and the best value for your money," Boughan said. "First, determine where you will display the tree so that you will be able to tell what size and shape you need. Next, do a freshness test to see that the needles are resilient and hold to the branches."

The branch can be tested by holding it about 6 inches from the tip, and pulling your hand toward the tip and then allowing the branch to slip through your fingers, she said. Needles should adhere to the branch and not fall off in the hand.

"Another freshness test is to lift the tree a couple of inches off the ground and then bring it down firmly on the stump end. Outside, green needles should not fall off in substantial numbers when that is done," the tree farm owner said. "Also, remember a good fragrance and green color indicate freshness."

To keep the tree fresh, remember to keep it watered and follow these rules:

- Make a fresh cut across the base of the trunk about one-fourth inch. When the tree is cut, a seal of sap occurs naturally over its stump which keeps moisture in the tree. It is important to break the seal to allow the tree to "drink" the water needed to keep it fresh throughout the holidays.

- Put the tree in a water-holding stand immediately. If you are not ready to decorate it, put it in a bucket of water within 12 hours of making the cut.

- Keep plenty of water in your stand. A Christmas tree may absorb a gallon of water in the first 24 hours that it is displayed and several quarts of water thereafter.

- Position your tree away from heat sources such as fireplaces and television sets.

- Be sure that all light cords and connections are in good working condition.

"Remember, to ensure that there will be an ample supply of Christmas trees for generation to come, new seedlings are planted every year by tree growers throughout the country," said Boughan. "We want to be sure that there will be always be Christmas trees for the holidays."

TRAVEL TIPS

What makes San Francisco so unique? Probably anyone over the age of six can tell you it's the cable cars that carry residents and tourists up and down the unbelievably steep hills throughout the city. Fisherman's Wharf where people go to shop and sample some of the best food in the world and the Cannery, where street artists perform during the summer months. It's a city of contrasts which must be explored thoroughly before moving on along the coastline known as the famous 17-mile drive.

It's within easy reach of the famous redwoods of Muir Woods and Sausalito, a beautiful town and art colony worthy of landscapes itself. It's a place where one can visit museums and enjoy the best music the world has to offer, a place one can shop in unique boutiques or the finest department stores. San Francisco certainly doesn't lack fine, gourmet restaurants but you'll also find wonderful eating places in almost every neighborhood in the city.

You could probably spend as much time as you can spare and never get bored, but you can also visit San Francisco as part of any trip to California. You can make it the first or last stop, perhaps traveling between cities by rental car or on any number of excellent tours of varying duration.

We'll help you plan a trip to San Francisco by finding the lowest air fare, the best hotel rates and the finest sightseeing the area has to offer. Won't you give us a call soon?

Blessings for each to count

Tomorrow, most all of our area residents will sit down to a Thanksgiving dinner with family and friends to enjoy a holiday meal and mark the beginning of the Christmas season.

But what of those who will not have that pleasure?

Many, many local families this year have found themselves with reduced incomes...sometimes reduced to nothing. These people will depend on the kindness of others, whose incomes have also been cut back, to help them through this holiday season and the upcoming winter.

Too often, in this area of comparative affluence and high employment, we forget that there are those who so desperately need our help. Many of us are surprised to discover the homeless man living in the alleyway behind our office building or rooting through our dumpster in an attempt to find anything salvagable to eat.

Those are not extremes. That very situation exists in many, many areas and the recent slashing of the welfare and general assistance budgets in Lansing has been devastating to many people.

But we most sincerely believe that the human spirit will triumph. We believe that the generosity of their fellow citizens will help those in need to find shelter and a decent meal this week, and throughout this difficult time. We believe that this area will find, in time, the way to provide services for the needy and indigent and that the entrepreneurial spirit will revive in areas where businesses have closed.

We are gratified and touched at the number of local agencies offering help to those who may go without food and shelter. We are impressed with local leaders and officials who shrug off the remarks and attacks of "activists" and place their confidence in the better informed and supportive members of the community.

We are thankful for the leaders who have inspired these beliefs and in whom we have this confidence. We are grateful for the apparent change of philosophy of public servants who seem to be finding their own way and seeking the truth in their decision making.

We believe those people who say that good will triumph and that the dissidents and misinformed, self-aggrandizing political activists will see the error of their ways or the public will discover the misinformation they have disseminated.

We believe all these things because we have, as a local will discover the misinformation they have disseminated.

We believe all these things because we have, as a local newspaper, served this area and these communities for more than a century. We've seen this area weather the very worst of economic and political times and come back stronger than ever before.

And, we've seen, first hand, the types of leaders and officials people in this area choose. We believe, completely, that our communities will thrive based on the spirit, character and goodness of those who live here.

They are among the blessings we will be counting tomorrow.

He will be missed

The community lost a dedicated public servant this week when Sumpter Township Trustee Karl King died.

Mr. King, who was appointed to his post in 1984 and elected to a four-year term, severed his community well. Mr. King was known as a man who studied all sides of an issue before making a decision and one who never feared to express his views.

When he was appointed to his post in 1984, he said, "I will do my utmost to carry out my responsibilities. My main and chief concern is to serve the citizens of this community to the best of my ability."

All we can add to this, is that we believe Mr. King did what he promised - he served his community to the best of his ability. There is no higher praise than an elected official can earn.

He will be missed by his fellow board members, township employees and the people he represented on the township board. His shoes will be difficult, if not impossible, to fill.

Police enforcement defended

To the editor:

I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every person who came out to vote on Tuesday, Nov. 5. A special thank you to all those who cast a vote for me. Finishing eighth behind the mayor's endorsed "team" isn't bad for a beginner so they tell me.

A thank you also goes to The Associated Newspapers for giving me a secondary endorsement, at least my points of view got across to the public.

The many calls and messages I have received are very gratifying. Please be assured that my level of concern and involvement will not diminish.

I was pleased to know that the voters did agree with me in voting down the three ballot proposals. Hopefully, it sent a clear and unmistakable message to the "team" that we citizens will not support tax increases of any kind and that wise and prudent spending is the order of the day.

Belleville resident thanks local police

To the editor:

For the past several weeks the Wayne Department of Public Safety has been issuing tickets to persons who are stopping in the "No Parking" area in front of Monroe School. Many comments have been made about how "stupid," "terrible," "ridiculous" and "unreasonable" the police are being in issuing these tickets. I've also heard comments such as "no kid has been hurt or killed yet," and "You can't put your kid in a plastic bubble to protect him" coming from parents who think it's insane to enforce a law that is meant to protect the children while at school.

The fact that no child has been hurt must show that the existing law prohibiting parking is working. Doesn't it make sense to prevent an accident rather than to repair the damage caused by one? Shame on the person who would leave a hurt child in the street, more shame on that person for not trying to prevent the child from getting hurt in the first place.

Every person with a driver's license should be aware of the laws that govern the use of that license. The law regarding the "No Parking" area in front of Monroe School is adopted from the Michigan Department of State Police Uniform Traffic Code as follows:

"Section 8.10; subsection 1-A person shall not STOP, STAND or PARK a vehicle in any of the following places, except when necessary to avoid conflict with other traffic or to comply with the law or the direction of a police officer or a traffic control device:

Article (F) Within 20 feet of a crosswalk...Article (R) at any place where official signs prohibit stopping, standing or parking.

I am in full support of the actions taken by the Wayne Department of Public Safety and will continue to participate in any matter that will keep the children at Monroe School safe. I hope that in the near future the parents mentioned earlier outgrow their ignorance and realize that not enforcing the law puts our children at risk, enforcing the law protects them.

Candidate thanks voters for support

To the editor:

Congratulations to Van Buren Supervisor David Jackson and the Van Buren law enforcement officers and agencies.

As a long-time resident of the Van Buren-Belleville area, I wish to express my concern regarding the homosexual protests which have been ongoing since opening day Sept. 30 at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant in Van Buren Township.

I know I speak for a very large segment of the community when I extend to you my sincere gratitude and deep appreciation for the services you are rendering the citizens of this community as well as the many hundreds of visitors and customers who come weekly to our community. There prevails a sense of security when one witnesses first hand how our leaders are upholding the law and protecting its citizens from unlawful acts.

As the news media has afforded us with extensive coverage of the activities taking place at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant, we citizens are very much aware of the fact that the Van Buren area law enforcement officials are "on the job" and "in control" while utilizing all legal means to restrain and/or remove the homosexual demonstrators.

Many residents and citizens, who are of the silent majority, know of the costs involved with these protective services and although we are not a wealthy community by most standards, we are a staunch, law-abiding community and we fervently believe that whatever the monetary cost, the reward and end result will be of far more value.

We cannot and must not surrender any of our legal right to any unlawful minority group. We are all behind our law enforcement agencies 100 percent. Keep up the good work.

Pastor denies 'condemning' school board

To the editor:

It was with redoubled disappointment that I read in the Sunday Eagle and Enterprise that my remarks before the Wayne-Westland Community Schools Board of Education were understood by your reporter as condemnation of anyone in particular for any particular action.

The sentence I vigorously dispute is this: "Cowling condemned the actions of school board members and said, 'the adults of this community are providing terrible moral leadership to our children and it is time that changed.'" I will stand by the quotation, but it is apparent that your reporter has missed the point, for nowhere in my prepared text of Oct. 28 did I "condemn" anyone.

What I lament is the evil that I see that I may dare to say is even demonic. That evil is the moral atmosphere that accepts as business as usual, or as mere "dirty politics," the continual display of accusation and counter-accusation, the obvious vindictive spirit in our community, name-calling, anger, vituperation, rumors of real or imagined "hit-lists," and threats to a respected colleague in the ministry. This list could go on and on.

If all of that is not terrible moral leadership for our children, what is? Is not all of this symptomatic of a fundamental spiritual problem in our community? Does the reporter for The Westland Eagle not understand that this is the tragedy of the Wayne-Westland community? Is this not evidence that our most crying need is for reconciliation?

The people who have been shouting at each other might be well served if they begin anything they might have to say with the greeting "Peace be with you." If their adversaries would respond by saying, "And also with you," then peace might have a chance.

New councilman thanks voters

To the editor:

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the voters for their support of my candidacy in the recent Westland City Council election. I feel particularly proud and fortunate to have received such an overwhelming vote of confidence from the electorate.

Over the course of the campaign it was most gratifying to have the opportunity to meet so many genuinely concerned and friendly citizens. Although some chose to do otherwise, ours was an issue-based and people-oriented campaign. We are proud of the clean campaign we ran.

I look forward to working with the council and Mayor Thomas' administration to address our city's problems and move our city forward into the 1990s.

Economy puts more drivers 'on the road'

Despite the current blip on the economic screen, Thanksgiving travelers are going home for the holiday, but many will be driving this year, AAA reports.

Police and the Michigan Department of Transportation officials say traffic counts will moderate over the long holiday weekend but that snow in many regions of the state could bring out additional numbers of skiers and snowmobilers.

Although predictions differ by spokespersons for the major airline, train and bus companies on the extent of travel during the holiday period, many say it should be equal or slightly better than last year when high fuel prices and unrest in the Persian Gulf dampened spirits.

As for the continuing holiday season: "While driving will be popular this Thanksgiving, many people will still be flying to their traditional holiday destinations," stated Diane Willard, Vice-president of AAA Travel Agency.

"Consumers are being very cautious about where they spend their discretionary dollars and want the most value for their money," she added. "On a short weekend, they may fly in order to spend more time with family and loved ones."

But there is still more travel than last year, she said.

"We're getting back on track."

She also predicts things will pick up this winter.

"We see a pent-up desire for travel in February and march to the so-called warm weather cabin fever destinations."

For those traveling by train, bus or plane, however, the advice is to book early in order to take advantage of any discount fares being offered. Also advised is to be flexible on travel dates and to avoid peak travel days which are Nov. 26 and 27 and Dec. 1 this year.

Train travel will be "mostly up from last year," according to officials. Amtrak rail experts say travel to and from areas with large college populations, such as Ann Arbor, Columbus and Boston will be heavy.

For Michigan residents driving to Grandma's house for turkey and pumpkin pie, many may be happy to hear that gas will be plentiful and cheaper than last year when regular statewide self-serve unleaded cost $1.37 per gallon. The AAA Michigan latest survey puts it at $1.13 and says that motorists would have no problem finding gasoline on Thanksgiving since more than half of the stations surveyed plan to remain open after 9 p.m. that day.

On a somber note, AAA reports that last year 19 people died in 18 crashes on state roads during the 102-hour holiday weekend, up five over 1989. They say half of those accidents involved alcohol.

The holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Nov. 27 and ends at midnight on Dec. 1.

The 1991 Mustang, one of the best performance values in America, gets several new colors and an optional six-way power driver's seat to tempt buyers this year.

Mustang--performance is still tops

Mustang - America's original "Pony" car and a perennial favorite among performance enthusiasts - continues to offer high performance and remains the value leader in the small-specialty segment.

Enhancements for 1992 include: color-keyed bodyside molding; bumper strips; a four-way power driver-seat option; and two new bright colors, Bimini Blue and Calypso Green.

"The Mustang LX buyer is a value-oriented driver who wants a stylish, fun-to-drive, sporty vehicle," said Ross H. Roberts, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager. "GT and LX 5.0-liter buyers are driving enthusiasts who want the performance and handling of rear-wheel drive coupled with a V-8 engine."

GT and LX 5.0-liter models feature 16-inch five-spoke aluminum wheels. P225/55ZR16 BSW all-season performance tires are standard on the LX 5.0-liter and optional on the GT. The popular convertible has a minimal top-down stack height for a clean, attractive appearance.

"Performance is what the Mustang has always been about," said Roberts. "And, Mustang will continue to deliver driving excitement for new-car buyers in 1992."

Powertrain availability includes a 2.3-liter four-cylinder engine with electronic fuel injection and a 5.0-liter HO (High Output) V-8 engine. Both are available with either five-speed manual or four-speed automatic overdrive transmissions.

Standard Mustang equipment includes a driver-side supplemental air-bag, power front and rear-passenger shoulder seat belts, a modified MacPherson-strut rear suspension, a rear spoiler, low-back reclining bucket seats with headrests and an electronic AM/FM stereo radio with four speakers.

"In 1992, our strategy with Mustang is to continue offering price and value advantages over our competition," Roberts said. "It's a strategy that's worked for nearly three decades, and we believe it will be a winner for the 1990s as well."

Secretary of state offers driving tips for inclement weather

Winter is just around the corner. For safer, more carefree winter driving there are certain things every driver should know and do. Here are a few tips from Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

As the weather begins to change, watch carefully for icy patches. Bridges often freeze before the rest of the road. And, sections beneath underpasses, where the sun does not thaw the ground, may offer pleasant surprises.

However, the key is not to overreact. Try to plan ahead when driving. Most skids happen when trying to turn or stop suddenly on slippery pavement.

When sliding on ice or snow, whether or not you have anti-lock brakes, experts advise using steady pressure on the brake pedal, to keep steering control while reducing the vehicle speed safely. Be sure to steer the front wheels in the direction of the skid so that when you hit dry pavement, the vehicle wheels are aimed correctly.

Another important tip is to always keep windows free of ice and snow. Check for clean headlights and taillights, clear windows and mirrors. Road film and slush is messy, but can also cause bulbs to burn out more quickly.

Michigan law requires that headlights be turned on one half-hour after sunset until one half-hour before sunrise, and any other time there is not enough daylight to let you see people and vehicles clearly at 500 feet. However, never hesitate to put your lights on and keep them on when you want to increase vehicle visibility.

Here is a list of tips for driving in bad weather:

- Always give yourself enough time and space to do what you need to do safely.
- Never follow another vehicle too closely.
- Plan extra travel time.
- Drive defensively.
- Concentrate on your driving and be courteous.

If you get stuck in the snow, do not rock a car with automatic transmission back and forth more than about two minutes. Do not gun the motor or spin the wheels; and do not shift from forward to reverse or reverse to forward while the wheels are moving. All of these actions can overheat an automatic transmission, possibly resulting in costly repairs.

During an emergency, particularly on a highway, raise the vehicle hood and or tie a handkerchief on the radio antenna, driver's side door handle or mirror and wait for assistance. If you must leave a disabled vehicle or attempt on-the-scene repairs, be extra alert for passing vehicles and stay well off the roadway. If conditions are bad, passing drivers may not be able to see you at all. It is both dangerous and against the law to walk on a freeway.

Finally, the most important tip, make sure you and all passengers, including children, are properly buckled up. And, have a safe trip.
